BEACH AND RAINFOREST RETREAT

On the Osa Peninsula, Costa Rica

With Peggy Profant and Christine McArdle Oquendo

Immerse your family in the experience of yoga while basking in the magic of a tropical Costa Rican vacation.

Pristine beaches with warm tropical waters invite swimming, surfing, snorkeling and tide-pooling.

When?

Feb 17-24 & Feb 25-March 4, 2007

Where?

Guaria de Osa Rainforest-Ocean Retreat and Ethnobotanical Gardens, nestled in an emerald green, tropical rainforest along the turquoise waters and pristine beaches of Costa Rica's Osa Peninsula.

We've made it affordable with families in mind...

The entire trip, excluding airfare, is $1250 per adult and $700 per child (12 and under) per week. This includes everything but travel costs to and from the Drakes Bay airport. Better yet, stay for two weeks and we'll knock 10% off both weeks. That's $2250 per adult and $1260 per child for two glorious weeks in paradise. That's a bargain for two weeks in paradise! If you've never been to Costa Rica on a World Family Yoga retreat, make the trip. It'll transform you, your family and your life – guaranteed!
